

Join “Q-Webinar of Collaborative Studies on SDGs in Asia”

Overview and Purpose of the Project

School of Interdisciplinary Science and Innovation (School of ISI) in Kyushu University should hold “Q-Webinar (Kyushu University Web-seminar) of Collaborative Studies on SDGs in Asia” during Asia Week 2020 in Kyushu University (Sep. 1 – 11, 2020), in which students and faculties in partner universities of School of ISI and those in School of ISI and other friend universities join the network together through the wide distributed webinar software tool, Zoom Webinar (Zoom Video Communications, US), and tackle several urgent social issues facing today in Asia with collaborative studies.

The tentative topics in SDGs are as follows: (1) Quality sustainability of education in Asia, (2) Natural Disasters in Asia; Present Problems and Solutions, (3) Biodiversity Conservation in Asia, (4) Socio-Economic Impacts of COVID-19 on Developing Countries: How to mitigate and control damages?, (5) Students’ life in Asian universities during this corona virus pandemic.

Zoom Webinar Schedule

Section 1 (Sep 2 (Wed), 2020: 13:30 – 16:30 (Japan time))

Quality sustainability of education in Asia

Section 2 (Sep 3 (Thu), 2020: 13:30 – 16:30 (Japan time))

Natural disasters in Asia; present problems and solutions

Section 3 (Sep 4 (Fri), 2020: 15:30 – 18:30 (Japan time))

Biodiversity conservation in Asia

Section 4 (Sep 10 (Thu), 2020: 13:30 – 16:30 (Japan time))

Socio-economic impacts of COVID-19 on developing countries: how to mitigate and control damages?

Section 5 (Sep 8 (Tue), 2020: 13:30 – 16:30 (Japan time))

Students’ life in Asian universities during this corona virus pandemic

Organized by

School of Interdisciplinary Science and Innovation, Kyushu University, Japan

Contact to

Prof. Masahiro Okamoto (Special Adviser to the President): okahon@kyudai.jp

All participants have to registrate by August 31, 2020 (free of charge)
Registration site: <https://kyoso.kyushu-u.ac.jp/en/>

九州大学
KYUSHU UNIVERSITY

